A Revolutionary Solution That Creates Lasting Results...

Stimulating Your Body's Natural Regeneration Processes...

MonaLisa Touch is a non-surgical, non-hormonal alternative to Hormone Therapy for the treatment of symptoms related to Vaginal Atrophy. It is a five minute, painfree procedure that has no downtime.

MonaLisa Touch is the first solution designed to naturally counteract the effects of hypotrophy of the vaginal wall. By stimulating the regeneration of new vaginal tissue MonaLisa Touch restores your body's natural balance and function.

You can begin to feel like you again...and rediscover the confidence to live the lifestyle you choose.

HOW MONALISA TOUCH WORKS TO RESTORE FUNCTION AND BALANCE

MonaLisa Touch works by stimulating the body's own regenerative processes to create more hydrated and healthy cells and to improve the circulation and nutrient supply to the vaginal wall. This has a direct effect on the integrity and elasticity of the vaginal wall and returns the internal vaginal environment to more normal levels.

In as little as 30 days after treatment the regeneration of new tissue in the vaginal wall builds a naturally stronger structure and the protective wall recovers volume, hydration and elasticity.

Convenient Treatment - No Downtime

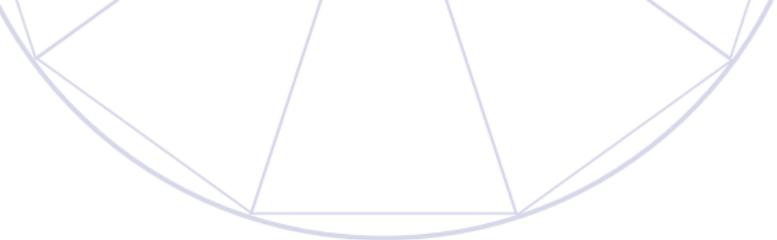

The MonaLisa Touch treatment takes around ten minutes. There is no downtime required after the treatment and you can return to your normal activities immediately.

How Many Treatments Are Required?

Most patients feel an improvement after the first treatment with the full benefits of the MonaLisa Touch treatment achieved in three to four treatments. This can be decided in consultation with your Doctor.

Are The Results Permanent?

All the changes obtained with the MonaLisa Touch procedure last significantly longer than other treatment options. As the natural ageing process continues the treatment can be repeated as required.

THE AGEING EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW ABOUT

Women of all ages can experience changes to their vagina and urinary system largely due to decreasing levels of the hormone estrogen. These changes are known as 'Vaginal Atrophy' and will affect half of all women, yet only 25% of these women will seek medical advice.

Vaginal atrophy causes changes in the structure and function of the vagina. The walls of the vagina lose collagen, become thinner and the natural elasticity and blood supply is reduced. The protective mucosa of the vagina can lose hydration and thickness, causing a loss of lubrication and changes in the natural balance of the internal environment. This can cause symptoms such as:

- Vaginal Itching & Burning
- Vaginal Dryness & Loss Of Lubrication
- Vaginal Laxity
- Some Incontinence-related Symptoms
- Painful Sexual Intercourse

These symptoms can have a negative effect on your general well-being, cause you to alter your lifestyle and, in many cases, place stress on your intimate relationships.

Existing Treatment Options

Vaginal moisturisers are available for short term relief but currently the most common treatment for vaginal atrophy requires ongoing applications of estrogen creams directly into the vagina. For a variety of reasons some women are not able to use these creams, become uncomfortable with this process or are irregular with the application and eventually discontinue use.

Inspired By The Best In Anti-Ageing Therapy

The inspiration for one of the most significant advancements in vaginal health has come from dermatological treatments for scar reduction, wrinkle reduction and skin texture improvement.

The Deka Smartxide 'DOT Therapy' treatment has been used for many years for effective anti-ageing treatments on delicate areas such as the face, eyelids and neck. The advanced technology that allowed treatments to be tailored to each patient's skin type and body area has led to the development of this innovation in the treatment of vaginal atrophy.

The MonaLisa Touch treatment adds a new dimension to the treatment of this important health issue for women. It provides the ability to stimulate the natural regeneration of the vaginal tissue and counteract the physical and emotionally-draining effects of vaginal atrophy.
